Acknowledgments to those without whom 2016 wouldn't have been the same
In October we celebrated our 10th anniversary. We are so grateful to each and every individual who has partnered with us during the past ten years. From volunteers, teams, teachers and trainers for children and staff, sponsors, donations of finances and possessions. We cannot have done this without you all. Bali Life celebrated with performances from children from the children's home and street centre, dinner together, and speeches from our directors and founders. Thank you to all who made it to our celebration, especially those who made the trip from overseas. We are so grateful to have you as part of Bali Life Family.

The Women Workshop and the Street Kid Centre are located in the same house and help both moms and street kids getting a better future.
03 WOMEN CENTRE

Review on process

1 Women are identified or are referred to Bali Life: Our live in mother who wanted to put her children into the Children’s Home was made aware of the Women’s Centre program and chose to take part in order to stay with her children. We continue to receive referrals.

2 Case management for woman and her children is put in place: After information gathering about the history of the family, the current situation and future goals the issues that needed to be addressed were identified by staff and the mother with a plan of how to work towards solutions.

3 Initial trial period: Help women adjust to a more structured lifestyle: The family was given an orientation about the program and the house timetable.

Stage 1: Build trust and relationships with women and provide basic training: Over a period of time relationships were formed and basic training provided.

Stage 2: Provided individual skill development training to women to help them gain future employment: This stage included a number of classes around issues such as anger management, self-esteem, dealing with grief and loss as well as subjects such as English and computer etc.

Stage 3: Continue job specific training and help them start to seek and gain employment: Arrangements were made with a local resort that supports Bali Life to interview the mother for work experience. She then spent 3 months in kitchen work and housekeeping. The mother was offered paid work at the resort, which she took whilst training.

Stage 4: Consolidate training and prepare for independent living: The mother completed work experience and arrangements were made for her to have an interview at another major resort. She was successful and started full time work. Training was provided on budgeting, planning a daily family schedule for the children.
4 Provide opportunities for women to be involved in planning and decision-making: After providing information on how to manage/budget finances the mother was able to decide how she would allocate her monthly wage. The mother planned the timing of the transition to independent living.

5 Reintegration into independent living: Assistance was given to the mother to find independent living in suitable housing, which was safe for the children and the mother. A suitable boarding house was located close to the Children’s Home, the farm and the Women’s Centre.

6 Monitor and provide support to women who have reintegrated: The family is visited weekly by staff at their home. The children regularly attend school as well as after school activities with Bali Life. Any issues that arise are discussed at our regular staff meetings.

7 Regularly monitor and evaluate the overall effectiveness and impact of live in program. Involve women in this process: The mother has completed an exit form, which provided feedback about the program.

8 Empower Women’s Centre staff members to get better in their jobs: Regular feedback is provided to staff about their performance. Support and encouragement is provided.

The Women Centre is redirected to the Women Workshop

Since July, the Women Center in Jimbaran is close. We redirected the Centre to Denpasar where is located the Women Workshop & the Street Kid Centre. The goal is to gather the training of women pending the opening of our Training Centre in Ungasan that is currently under construction. With the Training Centre we will be able to offer various professionals formation.

SIDE PROJECTS & EXTRA ACTIVITY
Suwung Community Center

We opened our new community centre in Suwung, Sanur mid-September. This centre is located in a large garbage dump in the middle of Denpasar. The community centre is focused to empower women and children living in and around the garbage site, providing them with education and skills. We are starting with afternoon children’s classes, mathematics, English language, sports and science for children 5 - 12 years old. Children are excited to join and love the chance to play on the green playground, building their skills on swings, monkey bars and green area. The playground area is open and available all day so before and after classes children can come and play and enjoy their time in the community centre. Thank you to Intercontinental Hotel Group Foundation for supporting this new project to empower women and children in Suwung.

Now, Swung Community Centre is set and rolling. Each day we get an average of 30 children coming into the centre for after school lessons in English, science, mathematics, sports and arts & crafts. About 10 women who work in the dump site also join regularly for lessons about sports, English and health. Community.
Training Center

Our latest project is up and running. Our Training Centre will enable us to open up training workshops to our children in the children's home and the local community, offer additional training with micro-finance schemes, host community events, chapel, and training facilities, which enable us to expand our current training workshop programme. We also plan to open a playgroup and kindergarten which will be able to support the community and also support the foundation and the building to be self sustained.

FUNDING NEEDS FOR 2017

The Fund that we have now can only fund the Sub Structure and Super Structure. We will need another USD $120,000 to complete the project, which we hope to be finished by the end of October 2017.
Self-Sustain Farm

Our Self-Sustainable farm continues to flourish with abundance of produce for feeding our children's home. Fruit, vegetables, eggs, chickens, pigs, ducks. The farm continues growing and providing much needed food to keep us sustained. Thanks also to TVCS for building a new roof for our chicken coop and making the farm environment more practical.

We farm as much of the land we available to us as possible as food for the orphanage. The farming we do is split into four areas, Fruit and Vegetables, Chicken Farm, Pig Farm and Aquaponics, each detailed below.

The purpose of farming in these four areas is to help improve the sustainability of Bali Life and to provide the children in our care with valuable training and experience.

Kuta visits

Over the past several years, we have been building relationship with some mums and their kids on the streets of Kuta. Thanks to the generous donations of many friends, visitors and supporters, we were able to visit and bring blessings for them and their community. We brought many clothes, books and pencils, and hygiene packs with toothbrushes, toothpaste, soap, shampoo and vitamins to bless the children and mums.

Feeding Families

Our Feeding Families Program for the poor families around us has continued to grow. it has been wonderful to be a blessing to the community in this way. Testimony

Adrienne Stone, one of our Long Term Volunteer.

"When asked to share my experience with Bali Life, I didn’t realise just how difficult it would be to summarise almost 9 years of experiences into just three paragraphs, but here goes.

My first visit to Bali Life was with a team from my Bible college. We stayed nearby the children’s home and painted their kitchen, which was under construction at the time. Since then, my experiences have been a range of various parts. From teaching children English, administration duties, helping staff in odd jobs around the home, running afternoon children’s programs, teaching women English, teaching children to read and for these past several months, my duties include coordinating children’s education programs with staff and volunteers at the Street Centre.

Having this long-term relationship with Bali Life, starting from short-term trips back and forth between Australia and Bali, until making a long-term commitment in 2014, I have been so blessed by seeing how Bali Life coordinates the programs to fully maximise their impact. From the programs run in the Children’s Home, the previous women’s centre, the Street Centre where I currently volunteer, until the newest centre in Suwung, Bali Life is always friendly, and welcoming. Bali Life shows such strong accountability that I love being part of something which makes sure every donation is put to the use it was purposed for and to build Hope, Dignity and Purpose to children, women and families across Bali.

Becoming a volunteer at Bali Life has been such a positive experience for me. The staff at Bali Life have really played an important part in my life, influencing my thinking to see the positive in all situations and encouraging me to do better. Without their push and encouragement, I would not perhaps be able to have the skills and experiences I do now (see above). Since being with Bali Life, I know I have grown so much, and I thank God for leading me here back in 2008, I wouldn’t want my life to be any other way."
